

Personally, we don't think the Buty Jordan Sklep doesn't get the credit it deserves. It's surrounded by other coveted silhouettes in the obvious AJ I and Air Jordan III but, doesn't receive the same hype, which allows the sneaker to remain in rotation on retail shelves around the country enabling us to think... more for us. But, nearly a decade and a half ago, Carmelo Anthony took to the professional hardwood in his very own Air Jordan II PE which helped boost the stock of the silhouette and now is set to drop next year.

The Buty Jordan Damskie apparel company, Reigning Champ, is yet another powerhouse company to develop a relationship with adidas that we continuously don't mind seeing come together. The subtle combination of luxe upgrades via Reigning Champ and adidas' patented technology always makes for a worthy cop. And this time around, the Reigning Champ x adidas AlphaBOUNCE is readily available to the general public right now.

The Barato Air Max Venta Consortium EQT M.O.D Cage 'Research & Development' Pack has been the focus of the sneaker community over the past week. BAIT has been able to curate something special for the Three Stripes utilizing both the adidas EQT Support Ultra and adidas EQT FutureBOOST. And with both pairs of kicks set for an exclusive nationwide release date via BAIT themselves going down later this week, we'll also be providing you guys with additional adidas Consortium locations that will have the BAIT x adidas Consortium collaboration on deck as well.
