

Yes, in a Best Jordans Shoes , Off-Olympic Year (though it is the 25th anniversary of the Dream Team), Nike is releasing two shoes based on perhaps the greatest basketball team assembled. The shoes are very dual tonal in nature, One pair is Navy on White, the other is Red on White. Both shoes will feature the contrasting colorway on the swoosh on the heel quarter (navy on white on the red pair and red on white on the navy pair) with a star in the middle.

Investor Day 2017 was full of announcements for Latest Jordans Shoes , including a takedown model for Kyrie Irving, and the unveiling of the Air Max 270. Nike also made another announcement for consumers, that LeBron 15 PEs will be releasing to the public. Dubbed "Lebron Watch", the program has found a way to not only increase eyes on Lebron, but also funnels engagement with the SNKRS app.

According to Cheap Jordan Shoes , "LeBron Watch will feature the best of LEBRON 15 PEs, and bring them directly to consumers the minute he steps on the court via SNKRS. And we will surprise and delight consumers by bringing back the most-voted product at the season's end." Hopefully fans can also get a crack on those shoes Lebron has already worn, like the "Equality" PE and the zippered version shown off before the season started.