

The Best Jordans Shoes “Thunder” sticks to the black/white-tour yellow color scheme of the 2006 and 2012 versions with the majority of the shoe’s upper taken over by this beguiling fuzzy black that devours all the space but for vivid yellow accents on the classy lacelocks. Amidst the black dominance, an underlying yellow silhouette lays claim to uninhabited areas behind the cover of meshed threads giving off a charming black and yellow display that is candy to the eye.

The white midsole is complimented superbly by wavy black patterns that spread out beautifully around the Latest Jordans Shoes and runs on to the bottom engulfing the entire outsole in an elegant shade of black but for a small island of white near the shoe’s front end. A Snow white Jumpman claims the center of the base with another miniature version residing atop the overflowing tongue.

The Cheap Jordan Shoes production keeps on churning out hit sneakers, one after the other and the company has been hard at work bringing in new models almost by the day. The Air Jordan 4 “Thunder” is another in line for a festive debut with the release date set for December 2017. These vibrant new jordans will be available across retail stores countrywide and although pricing is yet to be disclosed, an expect tag upwards of $ 200 is expected seeing as in previous “Thunder” versions have sold at around that price range.
