

The Best Jordans Shoes has had a great return for its 20th anniversary with various colorways making their return and new ones coming on the way. 2018 will show no signs of slowing down for the model, with the XIII already announced in much more colorways as well. However, surely to make people excited is the announcement of the return of the "He Got Game" Colorway.

Last seen in 2013, the Latest Jordans Shoes "He Got Game" was made famous by the Spike Lee movie of the same name. Also known as White/Black/True Red, the shoe features a white perforated upper with a black tumbled leather toe. Accenting it is the famous "Panthers eye" Jordan hologram, and a white midsole, which is contrasted by the red outsole.

Taking inspiration from Cheap Jordan Shoes and the Vampire Bat this time around, this pair will feature a Black graphic upper, with various Bats. Accenting the upper is the red and yellow hits for the sock liner, branding and tongue. On the heel tab of the shoe is a graphic of vampire teeth. Lastly, the shoe is completed with the red and yellow sole unit.
