

As sneakerheads, Best Jordans Shoes we've all seen the OG Air Jordan III 'Black Cement' but it looks like the 2018 version will closely resemble the original model. The sneaker features a black, tumbled leather base complete with cement GRE, elephant print textured mudguard overlays, grey leather that hits the ankle collar and tongue, Fire Red accents hit the embroidered Jumpman logo at the tongue, while the tongue itself and forefoot lacing eyelets are outlined in Fire Red. A white midsole creates balance for the kicks while original Nike branding hit the heel and outsole of the sneaker.

Some of the colorways include a Latest Jordans Shoes based colorway, one based in Knicks colors and a Pippen 1 done in the same "Dusty Purple" colorway as the Air Maestro. Check them out above and let us know if there were any you wished would've released in the comment section below.

Nike and the Jordan-Brand always have something unique in store for its fans.
