

The sneaker features a full-grain black leather base complete with all the bells and whistles including embroidery that we're used to seeing from the Best Jordans Shoes silhouette, a satin tongue creeps up from behind rope shoelaces while patented leather paneling hits the mudguard, heel, and ankle collar of the sneaker. 'University Red' accents are sprinkled throughout the sneaker as the kicks are rounded out by an 'Anthracite' rubber outsole.

With Opening Latest Jordans Shoes coming in a few hours, PEs galore are all over as players show off their kicks. Russ has been showing off Jordan 32s for a couple weeks now, and now we have some more to preview. We have already seen the orange "Creamsicle" colorway, but now we have a "Home" and "Blackout" Pair. All three have the Russ Westbrook logo on the right pair and the Wings on the Left.

The Cheap Jordan Shoes will take on the colors of the pan african flag as part of the collection with a grey and black upper, and the Pan African Flag going down the heel. across the medial of the heel is the date 8.20.1993, and those who have their sports history books out know that was the day former Olympic hurdler Colin Jackson set the world record in the 110m hurdles, and the 25th anniversary will be next year.