

The Best Jordans Shoes made its return in OG form with a pair of OG colorways this year, and it looks like the Air Max 1 will make another OG return as well. Returning in the "Obsidian" Colorway, the Air Max 1 will return in its OG shape and materials. The colorway was last seen in 2013, but not in OG form. No word on a release date just yet. However, the colorway was first released in 1988, so it's 30th anniversary would be in 2018; this is unlike the other pairs that dropped this year, which first released in 1987. Though he lost his initial choice of a number two in Gordon Hayward to injury, players like Jayson Tatum and Terry Rozier have stepped up to carry what would have been Hayward's load. Kyrie and Nike has also been taking the chance to outfit his shoes in as many Celtics colorways as possible. Kyrie has already shown off the Kyrie 3 in a darker Celtics silo, as well a fusion silo in a lighter colorway. This pair is a Kyrie 3 in a lighter colorway, with a white textured upper. Contrasting that are black and green accents, appearing on the midfoot, as a gradient swoosh and sole and on the insole.
